Awards

Calgary Parking Authority's ParkPlus and autoChalk receive the 2010 Awards of Excellence Honorable Mention from the International Parking Institute.

Presented yearly, this award is bestowed on a project that applies exceptional innovation in a parking operation or program.

"We are proud to be recognized by our peers in the parking and transportation industry," said Calgary Parking Authority General Manager Dale Fraser. "The ParkPlus System is a made-in-Calgary world-class solution and this award acknowledges the contribution we've made to the industry and the unique approach we've taken to address parking in Calgary."

"With millions of transactions processed to date, Calgarians find the new parking system convenient and easy to use," said Dale.

Tannery Creek's autoChalk is a critical and core component in ParkPlus providing scanning, LPR and other processing tasks on some 8000 vehicles per day that park in downtown Calgary and other locations administered by the Calgary Parking Authority.

"Tannery Creek is a proud contributor to the ParkPlus system," said Bill Franklin, President of Tannery Creek Systems, adding "We are thrilled to receive recognition for our work with Calgary's outstanding ParkPlus System from one of the world's preeminent parking industry associations."

The IPI Award of Excellence is given to submitted projects/operations determined by the Awards Panel to be deserving of recognition in each category.

The International Parking Institute (IPI) is the premier authority on parking and interrelated transportation components in North America. Founded in 1962, IPI is a multifunctional association comprised of more than 1,300 parking professionals who come from various segments of the parking industry.

The City of Calgary's Parking Authority fulfills the city's parking initiatives, policies and responsibilities for on- and off-street public parking facilities, enforcement and providing parking advisory services.

Tannery Creek Systems Inc is the manufacturer of autoChalk, the industry's leading mobile parking enforcement system.
